Abstract

PlowTopia is a blockchain-based multiplayer RPG and builder game, where players can own customizable avatars, farming packages and NFTs. The game offers an exciting in-game environment with a virtual marketplace and a virtual trading world where users can interact with other players through avatars to buy/sell/trade their in-game items and meet new friends.

There will be a total of 100 Daily missions to be completed by the players wherein every mission has a reward of 1 PLOT token.

Aside from that, players are able to buy the native PLOT token of the project using the in-game currency (GEMS) earned through farming. Farming is unlimited and users can mass-produce to sell more seeds/crops to other players in the virtual trading world thus earning more profit.

Every NFT comes with an in-game use case. From attributes to boost farming experience, cool-looking designs to build reputation in the game and privilege to complete certain daily missions. Rare Avatars are inspired by the famous "Cryptopunks" and comes with rarity (Common, Uncommon, Rare and Mythical).

The players can opt to stake, or buy numerous in-game items in the marketplace using PLOT token. Items such as vehicles, pickaxe, avatars and seeds that comes with different value depending on their rarity. Aside from that, PLOT token is also used to expand every user's farming lot to accommodate more space for virtual farming.

PlowTopia is built and launched on Binance Smart Chain that supports the new era of play to earn gaming integrated with blockchain.
